BROKEN NATURE EXHIBIT GUIDELINES

People are experiencing a worldwide pandemic, divisions, hidden agendas and distorted realities. The effects of global warming is causing climate change, drought, melting of polar ice caps, fire, extinction of species, and polluted oceans are undeniably on the rise.

Will we find holistic approaches to restore this broken world and be good ancestors for generations to come? Can we mend the divides in our broken society or find strategies to unbreak the cycle, to heal ourselves and the planet? Can we un-break and re-wild the nature and ourselves?

Art is a mirror of our own making, raw and true. It poses questions and encourages interactive conversations.

Artists are called upon to courageously expose greed, brutality, neglect of nature and each other. This exhibit challenges artists to find ways of addressing the consequences of our choices, the urgent need to live sustainably within Earth's finite resources and our own psyche.
